

Protect Yourself From Scams

To all our valued members, please note, we do NOT sell our attendee lists for the MHA & MRFA Trade Show. Any emails sent to your business offering to sell these lists are not affiliated with us. We do not recommend you attempt to purchase these lists.

As well, we have recently heard from some members that common scams have become even more frequent as of late. We remind all our members to watch out for suspicious emails, phone calls, or other communications requesting any information or services which could be misused by scammers. If a request to pay outstanding bills, prepare a large catering order, send gift certificates or otherwise submit info seems off or sudden to you, do not provide your information or services without investigating.

As always, the MRFA team is here to assist you. If you hear of a scam or need help determining if requests for info are suspicious, contact us and we will help sort through it.